

3.4 Let's March!

Warming up!

Chit-Chat

Discuss in your group.

- What difference do you notice in the two images?
- Which of the two situations, should change?
- How and when can the situation change?
- How can you, as a student, contribute and help make a difference to the needy children?

1. (A) A good well-organized speech contains the following characteristics and steps.
- A speech should be well-planned.
 - The language used should be suitable to the audience.
 - It should have the right duration.
 - It should be supported with good examples, episodes or visual aids, where possible.

- (B) Refer to Page 26 for a reference to the steps to be followed in the speech and do the activity given below.

Read the expressions given below and insert them in your notebook in the proper boxes, as shown below :

- (a) Imagine what will happen after ten years.
- (b) I would like to share with you an example from my own experience.
- (c) Hon. chief guest, eminent dignitaries, respected management and staff, student-friends
- (d) The research report says that.....
- (e) I don't understand why we are so negative about this issue.
- (f) Think again and again and then move forward.
- (g) Today, I would like to put forth my views on
- (h) The renowned personality xyz says "....."
- (i) Good Morning, one and all present today.
- (j) I would like to express my gratitude towards the organisers of this function for giving me opportunity.....
- (k) If we think about the situation around us, we notice that
- (l) Let me explain this to you.....

Greeting/Salutation	Introduction	Body of the speech	Conclusion

Let's March!

Part I

My dear children of the world ... Your Majesties, Your Royal Highnesses, Excellencies, distinguished members of the Norwegian Nobel Committee, dear brother Tom Harkin, brothers and sisters, and my dear daughter Malala.

From this podium of peace and humanity, I am deeply honoured to recite a mantra from the ancient texts of wisdom, Vedas. This mantra carries a prayer, an aspiration and a resolve that has the potential to liberate humanity from all man-made crises.

Let's walk together. In the pursuit of global progress, not a single person should be left out or left behind in any corner of the world, from East to West, from South to North.

Let's speak together, let our minds come together! Learning from the experiences of our ancestors, let us together create knowledge for all that benefits all.

I bow to my late parents, to my motherland India, and to the mother earth.

With a warm heart I recall how thousands of times, I have been liberated, each time I have freed a child from slavery. In the first smile of freedom on their beautiful faces, I see the Gods smiling.

I give the biggest credit of this honour to my movement's Kaalu Kumar, Dhoom Das and Adarsh Kishore from India and Iqbal Masih from Pakistan who made the supreme sacrifice for protecting the freedom and dignity of children. I humbly accept this award on behalf of all such martyrs, my fellow activists across the world and my countrymen.

My journey from the great land of Lord Buddha, Guru Nanak and Mahatma Gandhi; India to Norway is a connect between the two centres of global peace and brotherhood, ancient and modern.

Friends, the Nobel Committee has generously invited me to present a "lecture." Respectfully, I am

✦ What does the speaker feel honoured to recite?

● aspiration : an ardent wish or desire

● dignity : self-respect

✦ How does the speaker describe his journey from India to Norway?

unable to do that. Because, I am representing here – the sound of silence. The cry of innocence. And, the face of invisibility. I represent millions of those children who are left behind and that’s why I have kept an empty chair here as a reminder.

I have come here only to share the voices and dreams of our children – because they are all our children – [gesture to everyone in the audience]. I have looked into their frightened and exhausted eyes. I have held their injured bodies and felt their broken spirits.

Twenty years ago, in the foothills of the Himalayas, I met a small, skinny child labourer. He asked me: “Is the world so poor that it cannot give me a toy and a book, instead of forcing me to take a gun or a tool?”

I met with a Sudanese child-soldier. He was kidnapped by an extremist militia. As his first training lesson, he was forced to kill his friends and family. He asked me: “What is my fault?”

Friends, all the great religions teach us to care for our children. Jesus said: “Let the children come to me; do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to them.” The Holy Quran says: “Kill not your children because of poverty.”

Friends! There is no greater violence than to deny the dreams of our children. Therefore ... I refuse to accept that all the temples and mosques and churches and prayer houses have no place for the dreams of our children.

I refuse to accept that the world is so poor, when just one week of global military expenditure can bring all the children to classrooms.

I refuse to accept that all the laws and constitutions, police and judges are unable to protect our children.

I refuse to accept that the shackles of slavery can ever be stronger than the quest for freedom. I REFUSE TO ACCEPT here.

- the sound of silence : unheard plea of the deprived

- face of invisibility : unnoticed suffering of the poor and innocent

- exhaust : wear out

- ✦ What terrible thing was the Sudanese child forced to do?

- ✦ What does Satyarthi refuse to accept?

- shackles : chains that bind

♦ What is the only aim in life for Kailash Satyarthi?

♦ What are the signs of progress that the speaker mentions?

♦ What social role are the three 'daughters' playing?

My only aim in life is that every child is free to be a child,

- free to grow and develop,
- free to eat, sleep, and see daylight,
- free to laugh and cry,
- free to play and learn,
- free to go to school, and above all,
- free to dream.

I have the privilege of working with many courageous people who have the same aim. We have never given up against any threat or attack and we never will.

We have made progress in the last couple of decades. We have reduced the number of out-of-school children by half. We have reduced the number of child labourers by a third. We have reduced child mortality and malnutrition, and we have prevented millions of child deaths.

But, let us make no mistake, great challenges still remain.

Friends! The biggest challenge or biggest crisis knocking on the doors of humankind is fear and intolerance.

We have utterly failed our children in imparting an education. An education that gives the meaning and objective of life. An education that gives a sense of global citizenship among the youth.

I am afraid that the day is not very far away when the cumulative result of this failure, will culminate in an unprecedented violence, and that will be suicidal for humankind.

Rights, security, hope can only be restored through education.

Young people like Malala ... I've started calling her my daughter Malala not just Malala ... So my daughter Malala and other daughters including Kayanat.. in fact.. two Kayanats, and Shazia, and the daughters from Africa, and from all over the world. They are rising up and choosing peace over violence, tolerance over extremism, and courage over fear.

The solutions are emerging. But these solutions cannot be found in the deliberations in conferences alone, and cannot be found in prescriptions from a distance.

They lie in small groups and local organisations and individuals, who are confronting with the problem every day. Even if they remain unacknowledged, unrecognised and unknown to the world the solution are with them.

Part II

We can do it ...

You may ask that – what can one person do? I would recall a story of my childhood: A heavy fire had broken out in the forest. All the animals were running away, including lion, the king of the forest. Suddenly, then he saw a tiny bird rushing towards the fire. He asked the bird, “What are you doing?” To the lion’s surprise, the bird replied “I am going to extinguish the fire.” The lion laughed and said, “How can you do it keeping just one drop of water, in your beak?” The bird was adamant, and she said, “I am doing my bit.”

Eighteen years ago, millions of individuals marched across the globe. And demanded a new international law for the abolition of worst form of child labour, and it has happened, we did it, millions of individuals did it.

Friends! We live in an age of rapid globalisation. We are connected through high-speed Internet. We exchange our goods and services in one single global market. Thousands of flights every day connect us from one corner to another corner of the globe. But there is one serious disconnect and there is a lack of compassion. Let us inculcate and transform these individuals’ compassion into a global compassion. Let us globalise compassion.

Mahatma Gandhi said, “If we are to teach real peace in this world... we shall have to begin with

- confronting : facing and attacking

- ✦ What lesson does the story of the lion and the tiny bird teach us?

- ✦ What did millions of individuals demand eighteen years ago?

- compassion : pity and concern for those suffering

- inculcate : develop by instructing

✦ What problems do the poor children face?

● intergenerational: involving several generations

✦ Why does the eight year old girl's question 'shake' Mr.Satyarthi?

✦ What matters according to Satyarthi?

✦ What does Satyarthi challenge?

● passivity : no action taken

● neutrality : not supporting or helping

✦ What was Mr.Satyarthi's vision as a child?

the children.” I humbly add, let us unite the world through the compassion for our children.

I ask – Whose children are they who stitch footballs, yet never played with one?

Whose children are they who harvest cocoa, yet have never tasted chocolate?

Whose children are they who are dying of Ebola?

Whose children are they who are kidnapped and held hostage?

They are all our children.

I remember an eight-year-old girl we rescued from intergenerational forced labour from stone quarries. When she was sitting in my car right after her rescue, she asked me: “Why did you not come earlier?”

Her angry question still shakes me – and has the power to shake the whole world. Her question is for all of us. What are we doing? What are we waiting for? How many girls will we allow to go without rescue?

Children are questioning our inaction and watching our actions.

We need collective actions with a sense of urgency.

Every single minute matters, every single child matters, every single childhood matters.

Therefore, I challenge the passivity and pessimism surrounding our children. I challenge this culture of silence and this culture of passivity, this culture of neutrality.

I call upon all the governments, intergovernmental agencies, businesses, faith leaders, workers, teachers and NGOs, and each one of us, to put an end to all forms of violence against children. Slavery, trafficking, child marriages, child labour, sexual abuse, and illiteracy these things have no place in any civilised society.

Friends, we can do this. Governments must make child-friendly policies, and invest in education and young people. Businesses must be more responsible, accountable and open to innovative partnerships. Intergovernmental agencies must work together to accelerate action. Global civil society must rise above the business-as-usual and fragmented agendas. Faith leaders and institutions, and all of us must stand with our children.

We must be bold, we must be ambitious, and we must have the will. We must keep our promises.

Over fifty years ago, on the first day of my school, I met a cobbler boy, my age sitting outside the gate of my school. I asked my teachers: “Why is he working outside? Why is he not with us in the school?” My teachers had no answer. One day, I gathered the courage to ask the boy’s father. He said: “Sir, I have never thought about it. We are born to work.”

His answer made me angry. It still makes me angry.

As a child, I had a vision of tomorrow. A vision of that cobbler boy sitting with me in my classroom.

Now, that tomorrow has become TODAY.

I am TODAY, and you are TODAY. TODAY it is time for every child to have a right to life, right to freedom, right to health, right to education, right to safety, right to dignity, right to equality, and right to peace.

TODAY, beyond the darkness, I see the smiling faces of our children in the blinking stars. TODAY, in every wave of every ocean, I see my children are playing and dancing. TODAY, in every plant, in every tree, and mountain, I see our children growing freely with dignity.

Friends, I want you to see and feel this TODAY inside you.

My dear sisters and brothers, as I said many interesting things are happening today. May I please request you to put your hand close to your heart – close your eyes and feel the child inside you?

- innovative : having new advanced ideas or methods
- fragmented: split up or disunified
- agenda: a plan of things to be done to solve a problem

✦ What was the response of the boy’s father? What was Satyarthi’s reaction to it?

✦ What is your vision of tomorrow?

✦ What rights should every child have, in our times?

✦ What does Mr. Satyarthi request the listeners to do?

- democratise :
make democratic
- exploitation : take
undue advantage
of
- ◆ According to Mr.Satyarthi, who are calling on us?

I am sure you can – Now, listen to that child.
Listen please.

Today, I see thousands of Mahatma Gandhis,
Nelson Mandelas and Martin Luther Kings calling on us.

Let us democratise knowledge. Let us universalise justice. Together, let us globalise compassion!

I call upon you in this room, and all across the world. I call for a march from exploitation to education, I call for a march from poverty to shared prosperity, a march from slavery to liberty, and a march from violence to peace.

Let us march from ignorance to awakening. Let us march from darkness to light. Let us march from mortality to divinity.

Let us march!

- (Nobel Acceptance Speech by Kailash Satyarthi)

ENGLISH WORKSHOP

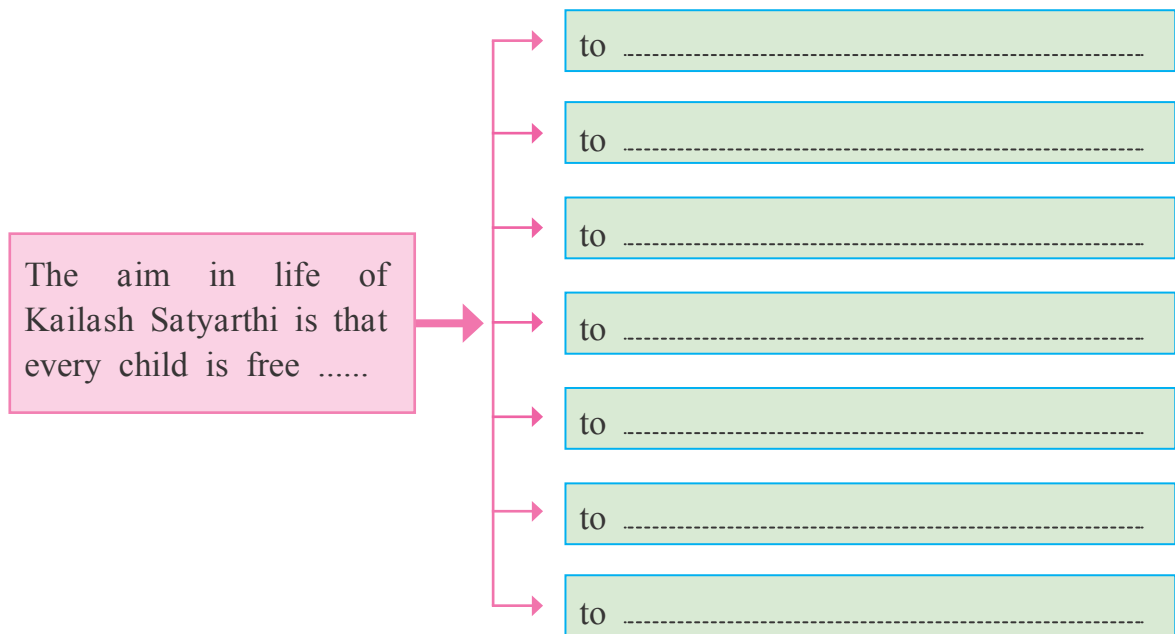

1. Name the following.

- (a) The persons to whom Kailash Satyarthi gives the highest credit of his honour –
- (b) The greatest personalities from the land of Buddha –
- (c) The ‘Daughters’ of Kailash Satyarthi mentioned in his speech–
- (d) The foreign activists of equal rights, mentioned in the speech –

2. Mention the social issues highlighted by Kailash Satyarthi in his speech. One social issue is given for you.

- (a) Child labour
- (b)
- (c)
- (d)
- (e)

3. Complete the following diagram/chart.

4. Complete the following web-chart.

5. Find out the describing words used for the following nouns and make your own sentences by using any three combinations.

- (a) sacrifice
- (b) faces
- (c) militia
- (d) challenge
- (e) globalisation
- (f) agencies

6. Choose the correct option and write in front of the given word.

(a) divinity :

- (i) goodness (ii) godliness (iii) god-fearing

(b) extremist :

- (i) militant (ii) robber (iii) spy

(c) culminate :

- (i) destroy (ii) succeed (iii) rise to a peak

7. (A) What will you do in the following situations?

(a) If you see a child working in a restaurant

.....

(b) If you find a child working on a construction site

.....

(c) If you find a child working on a brickwork site

.....

(d) If you come across a beggar child

.....

(B) Write any 2 efforts that you can make to enrol deprived children/ out of school children into a school. One is given for you.

(a) I will persuade parents of such children to send them to school.

(b)

(c)

(d)

(e)

8. Today, it is time for every child to have a right to – education,,

.....,,

.....,,

9. Make a list of Indian Nobel Laureates.

(a)

(b)

(c)

10. Make a list of prestigious awards in India.

Civilian Awards

- (a) Bharat Ratna
- (b)
- (c)
- (d)
- (e)

Highest Gallantry Awards

- (a) Paramveer Chakra
- (b)
- (c)
- (d)
- (e)

11. Make meaningful sentences by using the following phrases.

- (a) in the pursuit of (b) to be afraid of (c) to give up

12. Write minimum 5 hidden words of more than 4 letters from– ‘intergovernmental’

13. Imagine your school invites Malala to preside over celebration of ‘Children’s Day’. Draft a welcome speech for this noble young girl. Gather her biodata from the Internet.

14. Use the same words as a noun and a verb to make meaningful sentences.

March, honour, credit, stitch

Language Study

1. (a) Match the sentences given in part ‘A’ with the sentences given in part ‘B’. Note the differences in structure.

‘A’ Part	‘B’ Part
(1) He was kidnapped by an extremist militia.	(a) They forced the child to kill his friends and family.
(2) The child was forced to kill his friends and family.	(b) An extremist militia kidnapped him.

(b) Observe the following underlined phrases. Here ‘have/has’ are followed by the past participle form of the verb. This construction indicates the perfect present tense. Find more such sentences from the speech.

- (1) We have made progress in the last couple of decades.
- (2) We have prevented millions of child deaths.
- (3) It has happened.
- (4)
- (5)
- (6)

(c) In the following sentences the underlined words are called infinitives. Find such examples from the speech and underline the infinitives.

- (1) Every child is free to grow.
 (2) I refuse to accept that all the laws and constitutions, police and judges are unable to protect our children.
 (3)
 (4)
 (5)
 (6)

(d) Pick from the lesson, the Antonyms of

- ignorance ×
- deny ×
- well-known ×
- immortality ×
- violence ×
- slavery ×

(e) Do as directed.

(i) Make nouns of the following.

deliberate	deliberation	organise	extreme
prescribe	violent	educate
distant	tolerant	globalise

(ii) Make verbs of the following.

democratic	democratise universal global

(f) Change the following sentences to the other Degrees of Comparison, without changing meaning.

(a) The biggest challenge knocking on the doors of human kind is fear and intolerance.

- (i) No other challenge knocking as big as
- (ii) Fear and intolerance are bigger

(b) The Nobel Prize is one of the greatest honours in the world.

- (i) Very few honours
- (ii) The Nobel Prize is greater than

Types of Sentences

A sentence is a group of words that expresses a complete idea. Sentences can be classified in various ways. The following is a classification of sentences.

- (i) Assertive sentence (Statement) : A sentence that makes a statement or assertion.
For example, 'There are many villages in India.'
- (ii) Interrogative sentence : It is a sentence that asks a question. It has two sub-types.

Yes/no Interrogative sentence :

It generally begins with a verb and can be answered by saying 'Yes' or 'No'.
For example, 'Are you coming with us?'

Wh-Interrogative sentence : It begins with a wh- word, such as 'who' and 'why' and cannot be answered by saying 'yes' or 'no'.

For example, 'What is the time?'

- (iii) Imperative sentence : It expresses commands, requests etc. It generally begins with a verb.

For example, 'Open your books'.

- (iv) Exclamatory sentence : It expresses a strong feeling.

For example, 'How swiftly the river flows!' 'What a shame !'

