Let's Read:

Read the extract and answer the questions given below:

King Krishnadevaraya would perform heavy exercises every morning. He regularly applied oil on his body and thereafter worked out till all the oil came out with the sweat. This was followed by a long ride on his horse. Once the king started leading a sedentary lifestyle, he stopped exercising. He no longer went horse-riding either. The King overate and as a result, grew fat and heavy. The king's temperament also underwent a sea change.

Noticing this, the royal physicians cautioned the king against the ill effects of overeating and explained to him the risks posed by obesity. They advised the king to regulate his diet, exercise and take care of his health. The repeated advice he got from the physicians to eat less made him so angry that one day he announced a reward for anyone who could find him an easy cure. But there was one condition: those who failed would have their heads cut off. None dared to advise the king in this regard. The situation became precarious and as usual, Tenali Raman was approached by the courtiers for a remedy.
