PASSAGES
Part-A (Q.no – 3)

Read the following sentences:

1. Next morning the Potter went to the king's palace. He left the brown horse in the stable and walked to the palace .with his wife. The streets were filled with cheering crowds. They had all here about his brave action. (The barve Potter)

Now answer the following questions.

A) Where did the potter go?

B) Where did he leave his horse?

C) Who went along with him?

D) How were the streets?

E) What did the crowd here about the Potter?

2. "Sharda my dear Sharda!" She shouted and embraced her. The house wife felt like a person -totally parched and dried up about to die thirst... getting a drink of cool water from the new earthen kooja poured into her mouth with a spoon and given thus a new life. The friend did indeed give her new life --- " you are Sarada . You came first in our school in the 10th class. You came first in music competition conducted by the college. You used to paint good pictures too. We were ten friends all together --- I meet all of them some time or other. We write letters to each other. Only you have gone out of our reach! Tell me why are you living incognito?" Her friend confronted her.   (What is my name)

Now answer the following questions.

A) What was the real name of "ammudu"?

B) Who called her by name?

C) What made ammadu feel like a person?

D) What kind of a girl was ammadu when at school?

E) How did ammadu appear when she met her friend?

Answers:

1. A) The potter went to the palace.

   B) He left his horse in stable.

   C) Potter's wife went along with him.

   D) The streets were filled with cheering crowd.

   E) The crowd heard about the potter's brave action.

2. A) Ammadu 's realname was Sarada.

   B) Her childhood friend called her by her name, Sarada.

   C) When her friend called her name, she got her identity and felt like a person.

   D) She came first in the tenth class. She came first in music competition conducted by the college.

   E) Ammadu appeared totally dried up and about to die of thirst.