

पेड़ कई तरह से हमारे काम आते हैं।

Lesson summary

Nature can be felt and trees can be seen everywhere. One can see tall trees in forests, villages and mountain slopes. The poet says that the tall trees have their feet on the ground and their heads in the sky. They see the clouds passing by. In the evening, the sky becomes dark. The birds come to their homes in the trees. During the night the trees stay awake to look after the sleeping world. The poet compares noble – good and important people to tall trees. Their good behavior makes them different from other common people. They are humble. They show care and concern for weak people and protect them.
